

JAPANESE MILITARY KEEPERS OF THE BARRELS INSURGENTS TO ACCEPT TERMS OF GOVERNMENT

TOKYO, Feb. 27.—A capitulation of insurgent soldiers connected with yesterday's dejection of the Okada cabinet was communicated by an official source to the Domei News Agency late tonight. The insurgents, who held the police headquarters and barracks against an ever-tightening ring of loyal troops through 24 hours, were reported to have begun the evacuation of the buildings they occupied.

That quarter of the city was shut off from all outside observers when the police headquarters and barracks were surrounded by troops and fired bayonets. The rebels were stated to be leaving their captured stronghold to return to their own barracks.

The capitulation was said by the official source to have followed upon the notification of high military officials on behalf of the National government. These authorities prevailed upon the insurgents to accept terms of peace in order to avoid bloodshed.

The attention of the whole nation was riveted on those efforts of negotiation on the beleaguered heart of the bustling, rumormongering city.

The Imperial palace was silent behind military barricades of soldiers and loyal troops, and few were about.

Only an occasional automobile, bearing a policeman or a high army officer, was admitted into the palace grounds.

Speculation over the identity of the next premier mentioned most frequently Baron Kichiro Arita, vice-president of the Privy Council and noted leader of the Young Men's League, and former War Minister Gen. Sadao Araki.

A belief grew in political circles that the Emperor's advisers would urge the right wing elements to take the reins of government.

The Country Doctor

A Novelization of the Twentieth Century-Fox Film, Starring the Dionne Quintuplets. With Jean Hersholt, Dorothy Peterson, June Lang, Michael Whalen and Slim Summerville

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DR. JOHN LUKER, country doctor, to the little north-west settlement of Moosemount, receives in every cry call to the lumber mill when NIKK SCARLAN, lumberman, is crushed under a fallen log.

Nikk has a close call, is obliged to stay behind when the mill crew leaves at the end of the season.

Storms invade Moosemount, breaking telegraph and telephone connections. Then a diphtheria epidemic strikes the community. PATRICK BONELL, parish priest, and Dr. Luker, must fight the church into an isolation hospital.

Mike Scanlan, who, since his injury, has been suffering with a red-hot fever, has a message through to him from his wife, who has been taken to a nursing home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER

MINUTE followed long minute to the little room. There was no sound but Mike's droning voice "CQ, CQ—any amateur, especially Montreal."

"Do you hear ANYTHING?" pleaded Dr. Luker.

Mike made a gesture for silence. "CQ, CQ—any amateur, especially Montreal."

Then from his receivers came a voice, strained and raw, but audible. "CQ, CQ—any amateur, especially Montreal."

"I've got it! I've got it!" cried Mike wildly. The faraway voice droned a station number.

"Quick! Take it! It's Montreal!" whispered Mike.

"Can you get a message to my brother, Dr. Paul Luker, at the Curson Street Hospital? It's very serious—an emergency! Can you get hold of him and let me talk to him?"

"Yes, sir, I'll do it! I'll get him and try to call you back in 30 minutes!"

The faraway voice was clearly that of a very young boy, so much dependent on his understanding, acting, Seaver stood out on his deck, forehead as he pronounced. "Thank you very much."

Then with a faint click the receiver went dead.

Dr. Luker subsided on the edge of the bed. Mike looked at each other in silent dread, in awful helplessness. Was the receiver at the other end a responsible person? That Mike boy had done anything! Both Mike and the doctor felt their helplessness. There was nothing they could do, nothing even that they could say. Each kept his thoughts to himself.

Once Mike made a gesture towards the apparatus on the table, then caught himself. "Better not monkey with it," he muttered. "It brought them in before. Maybe it will again. Honest, I don't know."

blocked. Go to the Trading Company. See Sir Basil Crawford. See him—he's head man—himself. That his sea GOT to see a plane with a supply of serum—today!"

Then the doctors' voice rang with simple sincerity and the devotion of the lifetime he had given to his children.

"Tell him about the 30 children, Paul. You've got to help me. He's got to help me!"

"I understand, John," came the brother's voice. "I'll see Sir Basil immediately. I'll see that you get the serum. Goodbye. Steady if it, until we get there!"

The call resolved itself into a series of call letters and signals, then faded away.

"I know Paul would do it! There was a choice in Dr. Luker's voice. Mike wiped beads of sweat from his forehead. "Gee! Was that exciting," he whispered. "Like a movie!"

Dr. Luker appeared not to have heard him at all. There was an almost religious thankfulness in his voice.

"Mike, it's a funny thing. As long as you've got legs, you were just a dumb lumberman. Along comes a spruce log—and the next thing you know your brain starts working. You build a radio, and work—the doctor looks into an almost hysterical little chuckle. "It works!"

Then, as if he feared to trust himself to his own legs, he rose and almost abruptly strode out the door. His sleigh and the patient horse shivering in the icy blast of snow were waiting. Instantly the thought of the church-hospital and the children crowded out everything else. "Sorry, old fellow," said

TOKYO CAPTURED

There are a dozen daily papers published in Tokyo. Only four of them were published on Wednesday. And the few that were published carried a line about the most important news of the day —most important locally and to the world at large.

But it is hard to close all the avenues of communication in these days. Brief dispatches reached foreign centers telling that the military had staged a coup d'état, that the emperor had abdicated, that the Premier and the cabinet had been arrested, and that the military had taken control.

In time the world will learn the particulars and know the outcome of the military coup.
At present, however, it is known that the military moment is the war-makers have engineered a successful "ramp," ousted the moderates and taken charge.

Naturally, they dropped the iron hand of censorship on the newspapers in the first act in the drama. Dictators always do that. They lose to work in the dark. The public must not know what is being done until it has been done.
Russia may not have to fight the Japanese yet a while. They may be busy fighting themselves next summer.

BUSINESS, PLEASE

The city council toyed with the idea of a sales tax and the idea of a sales tax on Tuesday evening; finally decided to ask the legislature to consider removing some of the tax burden from real property and opening up new sources of civic revenue.

If this means the wage tax proposal and the sales tax proposal have been pigeon-holed to a convenient season for making a wage survey, taking survey of the whole taxation question, council was well advised.

If it only means council hopes the legislature will give it power to levy these imports, off-hand, the aldermen are asking for permission to play with dynamite.

The city is not in financial trouble because parsimonious taxpayers have refused to hand over their spare cash. Nor because an unfair proportion of taxation has been imposed upon those who were courageous enough to buy homes and business property—which is the case.

What council ought to be thinking about is not how it can wring more money out of hard-up residents of the city, nor how it can divide up the tax burden as it won't feel—but how that burden can be reduced by relieving the taxpayers of impositions they should not be asked to bear.

Refunding the city's debt until interest rates bear a fair resemblance to taxpayer earnings—is the subject that is now being discussed. It means a reduction of the city's debt, and unpleasant attention of the council. And meanwhile, why not strike a provisional tax rate and start to find out how much tax-money is likely to come in.

THE PLACE OF THE CONSUMER

The reader would like to know what "consumer" means to him, and what part he is supposed to play in the new regimented order of things, all he has to do is read and ponder the proposals set out in the Master Code, endorsed by but unanimously rejected by the council by delegates of the Alberta Retail Merchants Association at their convention in the palatial clubroom of the Macdonald hotel on Tuesday.

Mr. A. C. Mackay, secretary of the Association, and chairman of the Advisory Committee which is studying the Government's plan, the points of coding, acted as official explainer. His interpretations and predictions are to be taken as authoritative.

1. The present Trade and Industries Act provides that 66 per cent of those engaged in any line of business must be Canadian. This provision is to be amended so that the 66 per cent placed under the code before action will be taken.

This clause is to be struck out. Coding will be done when the Government, or the Advisory Committee, may decide.

2. Each retail merchant will be required to take out a license.

3. Any who refuse to take out license will be put out of business.

4. Each license will cost one dollar.

5. In addition there will be a fee for membership in the Association, to provide for supervision and enforcement of the code regulation; $5 for a merchant who runs his store without help, $7.50 for the one employing five or fewer, $10 for the one employing more than five.

6. Minimum prices shall be set for each class of goods.

There is no maximum price. A merchant selling for cash may charge whatever he wishes the code and subject to penalty. But in the upward direction he is free to charge whatever he can get.

6. Advertising is to be controlled, to the point of cutting out statements of comparative prices, and even statements that prices are lower than elsewhere.

7. Mail order houses located outside the province are to be prevented selling inside the province for less than the code minimum price.
The Government undertakes to fight the mail order in the courts if necessary to establish its
right to throttle inter-provincial trade.

To the direct question, "Will the code allow us to meet whose offer prices?" the reply was, "We won't go down to them; make them come up to us."

8. Delegates wanted to know if the code administrators would prevent new stores being started in opposition to them. The answer was,
"Leave it to the Advisory Committee."

No consumer will have to strain his imagination to find out who is elected to be the "best" in this regimenting program. All he needs to do is reach for a looking-glass.

His purchasing power is to be coded down.
He will not be allowed to buy goods at less than the fixed price. But he may be made to pay as much as he likes for goods.

He and his family will just have to get along with less food, clothing, house furnishings, and other necessities.

The exchange value of his dollar is to be discounted, and he must pay the discount. All the expenses for coding and enforcing codes is to be loaded onto him. He is to be made to deserve commercial incompetence, since it is the least capable merchant who most needs that his competitor be prevented from selling cheap.

Fifty Years Ago

From the Files of The Edmonton Bulletin

The difference between a wheat farmer on the prairie near a railroad and a mixed farmer in the prairie provinces is this: The wheat farmer's whole product is turned into cash each year, but having everything including meat, groceries, firewood and building material and besides has to pay out a large amount of cash—the mixed farmer takes no chances but on his own energy and the success of his business. He is a waiting game, but the chance of winning is two to one of that of the wheat farmer.

It appears that he, not whiskey, was the third party in the row at the Long Lake hotel alluded to last week, in which one of the men engaged in his row cut with a knife. It is about time the beer business was looked into a little more closely by the authorities.
While the beer brewed here theoretically is not unwholesome, practically, it sometimes is.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Messrs. Robert Wynne of Inuit, Jas. Mac-Donald of Edmonton and H. W. McKinnon of Saint Albert have been appointed license commissioners for district number 8.

But W. L. Deer arrives on tonight's train from Red Deer.

A letter from Lesser Slave Lake which arrived today says that an Indian at Wabasca Lake, about 150 miles north of that place, became violently insane. He was tied up and finally in accord with the Indian custom in that country he was killed.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Wilmsted, Canada—Advisers received from Venice that President Crotto was to be murdered. He had been French, break up the Monroe Doctrine, and told the French from Venice and the start on the Americans, Englishmen and Germans which he says are worse than the Chinese.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

French official report—in the region of Verdun the activities of the artillery on both sides has continued to be very intense on the west side of the Meuse, where the fighting goes on with the same tenacity. Several German attacks with large effectives have been conducted with unprecedented violence on La Cote Du Poivre but without success. Another attack on the position in the Bois De La Vauch is being prepared.

TEN YEARS AGO

Capt. Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, passed through Edmonton en route from Vancouver to Montreal.

The Edmonton-Wainwright City Limited started bus service last Sunday.

J. G. Gardiner will succeed Hon. C. H.
Dunning as Premier of Saskatchewan.

The constitution committee of the legislature is continuing a plan under which three members of the legislature would be elected from each of the sixteen federal ridings in the province.

W. L. DEER IN SOUTH AFRICA

No later than 1920 South Africa imported $4,000,000 worth of wheat, mostly from Canada. Canadian trade commissioner in Johnnburg, in the Commercial Intelligence Journal.

Accurate figures of a recently published government report the wheat producing areas of the Union are not particularly well suited for that purpose.

It is desirable that the country should be partly,
if not entirely, self-supporting in this commodity.

"The most interesting part of the police business is the public"—Lionel Barry-

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

A reader of this column sends me a copy of the "Irish World" for February 1st, and suggests that I comment on an excellent column-length editorial about the dead King George and declaring the young Edward the Seventh.

No doubt it is very shocking to the normal-minded people, when a newspaper, published in New York
The Government undertakes to fight the mail order in the courts if necessary to establish its
right to throttle inter-provincial trade.

To the direct question, "Will the code

Causes Of Coughing

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

Imagine your embarrassment if just at the most exciting moment in a movie picture, you feel a lump in your throat and start to cough prolonged coughing spell. The worst of it is that one good cough calls for another, and you keep on coughing until everyone is looking at you.

If you belong to that vast army of people who are embarrassed every winter by disturbing coughs, you will appreciate learning the causes of coughing.

The cough is nature's way of getting rid of something that should not have been admitted. If you will watch yourself next time you cough you will note that just before the cough, you open your mouth and swallow a gulp of air. The extra air is used to give more force to the act of coughing.

There are many different things which will make you cough. When you swallow food down your windpipe, you will cough heredically to get it out. Once it is coughed up the danger is gone. Most coughs, however, are due to irritating mucus which generally collects in the bronchial tubes. As the secretion of mucus accumulates, the mucus becomes excessive. The cough follows and the mucus is coughed out.

Excessive smoking or inhaling irritating gases may also result in throat irritation and coughing. Another common cause is mouth breathing, as the air is not properly warmed and moistened by the passage of breath through the nose. When the air is breathed through the nose, it is warmed before it reaches the bronchial tubes.

You may not be aware that gastric irritation will sometimes cause coughing, but it seems that this may occur because of the fact that the air in the stomach will swallow a gulp of air.
Occasionally, the nervous system may develop a habit cough, which is a quick dry cough. In such cases, an effort should be made to get rid of the habit of coughing.

The first treatment for either an acute or chronic cough is the short fast on fruit juice.
In many cases, the cough promptly subsides from the use of this measure alone. The type of cough which is most likely to be helped by the fasting regimen is the cough due to colds, bronchitis, influenza, and throat irritation. Naturally, if the cough is due to tuberculosis of the lungs, it can not be expected to disappear quickly. During the time the patient is on the fast, it is important that at least one plain warm water enema be taken each day.

Very often, a great deal of relief will be obtained by a return of the diet to normal. The diet makes some dietary changes following the fast. It is a good plan to eat more of the salad vegetables and also to use a great deal of starchy vegetables in abundance. Starch and sugar should be omitted for a time and the vegetables which help to relieve mucus formation.

Chronic coughs always have a systemic cause and you should find the cause and remove it. Very often, a great deal of relief will be

SNOW, RAIN IN ONTARIO

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—Snow, sleet and rain made Ontario's great outdoors about as comfortable last night as it was during the height of the winter cold. The weather, however, proved to be a blessing in disguise, for it was just what the city needed to keep the streets from becoming too dry.

In virtually every part of the province it snowed or rained. Toronto, however, became four-foot deep in snow. The rain, however, was not as heavy as it was in some parts of the province. In some places it was a heavy rain, but in most places it was a light rain.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By PAUL HARRISON

IF ONE wants to know the latest in Hollywood, or even wants to get an impression of something, it is important to keep one's name out of the telephone directory.

You could develop some splendid eye muscles trying to find Jean Harlow, Joe Penner, or any of the rest of them in a directory of Los Angeles and vicinity. They're just simply not there. Even if you were literally anxious to tell Mr. Penner's story, and pleaded with information for his number, you wouldn't be able to reach him.

Just what this pretense at exclusiveness avails the movie people is something your correspondent has not been able to figure out. All their jockey-jockeying friends know their numbers, any salesman, secretary or crank can obtain those numbers for a cash consideration.

Lists come high. Prices charged for lists depend on what the traffic will bear. A wealthy actress, once selling, will pay a good deal for the privilege of being in a list of stars, and will pay a good deal for the privilege of being in a list of stars, and will pay a good deal for the privilege of being in a list of stars.

HEALTH BOARD EXPENDITURES ARE APPROVED

Estimated expenditure of $34,500 for this year was approved by the city health board at its regular meeting Wednesday.

The board approved an expenditure of $100 for the purchase of a new ambulance, although it has not yet been definitely decided whether this will be charged against the health department or the city.

Question of salary revision was left for city council to decide. In connection with discussion of salaries Mayor J. A. Clarke, K.C., objected to the proposed payment of $25 a month to an assistant department's chemistry laboratory. It was explained, however, that the person was engaged in part-time work only.

The milk grading board was discussed briefly and finally settled for a further report from the committee which has been hearing representations on the bylaw.

Sacred Government
Determined to Split
Siamese Twins Apart

Premier Addresses Banquet of Retail Merchants' Association in Macdonald Hotel.

"I didn't come here to beg for your cooperation, for if you don't co-operate I will try to get you out of the government," declared Premier William Aberhart, when he spoke at the Wednesday night banquet of the three-day convention of the Alberta Provincial Board of the Retail Merchants' Association which has been in progress here.

To hear the Premier's address, 100 delegates to the convention, plus 100 more, had gathered in the main dining room of the Macdonald Hotel.

The "Siamese Twins" of government and finance are told to back world progress today, explain the Premier. Finance, which is a weak and ineffectual, is the only one that is left to the government.

SPILT TWINS APART
"Your government," shouted the Premier, "is determined to split the Siamese Twins apart. That's why we have pleaded with you to refund debts, lower interest and reduce the burden of the Siamese necks of our people."

He then, in his speech, Premier Aberhart attacked the Edmonton Journal, which, along with The Bulletin, had charged the hundreds of thousands of dollars in the day from the Retail Merchants' Association.

GRAIN VALUATIONS EASE ON EXCHANGE

WINNIPEG, Feb. 27.—New buying was insufficient to offset early profit taking and values eased fractionally in routine trade on the grain exchange today. Final figures were down 1/4 cent from Wednesday's closing quotations.

Trading tapered off as the session entered the second hour and lightness of offerings that troubled into the early afternoon for tardy purchases.

A flurry of profit-taking at the start appeared to dry up early enthusiasm. Not more than 100,000 bushels were transacted for export trade. Chicago values were picked up in sufficient volume to steady local futures prices.

The English market finished 1/4 cent lower. Buenos Aires at noon held steady while markets to the south slipped fractionally.

Cash wheat and coarse grains tended higher.

Bank of England Weekly Statement

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes in pounds: Total reserves decreased 2,500,000; circulation increased 4,000; other securities decreased 5,200,000; other deposits decreased 1,900,000; public deposits decreased 2,000,000; government securities increased 2,385,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve in gold is 40.8 per cent compared with 41.6 last week.

Rate of discount 2 per cent.

BROOMHALL

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—The action of the Liverpool market was disappointing yesterday. Liquidation of March contracts that position to decline the equivalent of 1/4 cent, while distant months were unchanged to 1/2 cent.

There were no indications of any important export trade in wheat and wheat products. Reports from Vancouver correspondents in the Argentine, Australia and New Zealand, however, written some damage from locusts has been reported but in any case it appears quite certain that the outlook is no longer so gloomy.

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—Phillip Rotynski, one of five men sentenced to be hanged 17 years ago in Peterborough, Ont., was freed Wednesday when he appeared in police court on a vagrancy charge.

There was other good news for him too as he came into court. A man sent word through the crown counsel he would give Rotynski a job in the spring and send him money until the work started.

The Salvation Army offered him a temporary home. And a letter from Amelia Jarvis, Toronto sportswoman, brought $5.

They had read of his arrest as he was released from prison under King George's amnesty last year after serving 10 years of a commuted life sentence. Two of his companions in an alleged murder had been hanged.
